

TAPE #12SADIE & RALPH CRAIN

Recorded: Dec 31, 1973

(This tape is not fully transcribed.)

Sam Hues was the first toll collector of the first suspension bridge across the Consumnes River where Highway 49 crosses the Consumnes. The approach to that bridge is further up the river. The east side approach is still there...

Hues was a Mason. First at Drytown and then at Plymouth. He was one of the charter members. This was at Drytown; we have his signature on the rolls. This was 1865.

...Where was Logtown? Yeah, Logtown was right over by that turn where they built a reservoir on top. There are six houses there now right along the road. Just this side of that smoking plant...
